How is your financial adviser paid?

The fees and commissions payable to Destination Financial Planning are explained in Part one of the FSG and also below. Consultum may retain up to 5 per cent of these fees and commissions and then pay the balance to Destination Financial Planning, which engages your adviser to provide financial services. Of the amount received by Destination Financial Planning from Consultum, your adviser is paid a salary, part of which may cover your adviser's operational expenses.

Other benefits?

Apart from the "Other benefits" section disclosed in part one, there are no other benefits received or relationships that may influence the recommendation.

Service and advice fees paid by you

Your initial appointment will contain a cost component of $330 (inc GST). Typically, general advice of a practical nature is provided at this meeting based on questions you will ask. An initial meeting can be up to two hours. At this meeting, Craig will explain how Destination Financial Planning operates, what you can expect and the payment options. All fees and commissions payable by you will be explained to you at the time advice is given and will also be detailed in a Statement of Advice, Record of Advice and Product Disclosure Statement(s).

You will have the ability to select your preferred payment option from the options below prior to the provision of advice. All amounts noted below are inclusive of GST:

Fee for service – once-off

The product provider deducts a once-off fee for the services provided to you in relation to your account. This fee can vary between $2,500 to $4,400 depending on complexity and time involved.

Statement of Advice (SoA)

A Statement of Advice fee is charged to cover the cost of researching, developing and preparing your advice document. This fee ranges from $2,500 to $4,400 depending on complexity.

Adviser service fee

The Adviser service fee represents the cost of providing our annual professional services to you. A summary of the services which you receive for this fee is contained in the Client Service Agreement. This fee may be up to 1.1 per cent per annum of assets under advice or charged as a flat dollar fee of between $220 to $385 per month depending on the complexity of the advice and the agreed level of service being provided. You only pay an Adviser service fee if you agree to a Client Service Agreement and then, only until it expires.

Commission for life risk insurance products – Policies issued from 1 January 2020

Initial commission payable under an upfront structure is capped at 66 per cent from 1 January 2020. Ongoing commission under an upfront structure is 22 per cent of the annual premium paid. Both initial and ongoing commission under a level structure will continue to be capped at 37 per cent.
